Translate UK Limited was founded in 2006 to provide translation and interpreting services to businesses in the North of England.

However, having successfully grown since its inception, we are now able to provide translation and interpreting services in and out of all major languages and serve clients throughout the UK as well as Europe.

Pooling the company's experience from within the language sector and from international business, the aim from the start has been to provide a high quality professional language service to businesses and commerce.

As a result we have been successfully providing our comprehensive range of services to businesses, solicitors firms, courts, the probation service and NHS through to private individuals.

Ever since Translate UK Limited was founded in 2006, high quality service has been central to everything that we do. Our clients demand and expect high quality professional language services.

We always endeavour to deliver the following:

- All translators and interpreters are fully qualified and experienced professional linguists with relevant post-graduate qualifications and membership of professional linguist associations in their home country.
- Translators always work into their mother tongue.
- We ensure that translators and interpreters are fully conversant with the subject matter before assigning work to them. Our linguists keep up to date with terminology in their language in their chosen field.
- We use translation memory and other technologies sensibly to provide the best quality translations to our clients.

We offer professional translation and related language services including the following:

Translation

We translate between English and all major world business languages. Our translators are experienced and qualified. We ensure that they have a thorough understanding of the subject matter, and we have specialist teams of translators for a wide range of industries and services. Translators work into their mother tongue. We use language technology sensibly and appropriately. Our standard translation memory package is market-leading Trados® software which is used to maintain consistent terminology.

We offer the following services:

- Commercial translation
- Medical translation
- Technical translation
- Legal translation
- Website translation and localisation
- Proofreading

Interpreting

Interpretation of the spoken word can be an essential element in spending business time effectively with non-English speaking clients or suppliers. For our legal clients, effective interpreting facilitates both court hearings and meetings with clients. We interpret between English and all major business languages and also community languages spoken in the UK. Interpreting requires very high levels of linguistic skill and concentration. All our interpreters are qualified and experienced linguists.

We offer:

- Ad-hoc interpreting for meetings and conferences
- Court interpreting
- Simultaneous interpreting
